

An FYI about grading the short stories: each story should have a paper with spaces for 3 grades (packet 20 rough draft 20 final 100). If a kid has the packet it's 20; if they have a rough draft it's 20. As the final rubric says the piece can earn up to 12 points. Here's how that works as far as being out of 100:

12 = 100

11 = 92

10 = 84

9 = 75

8 = 67

7 = 60

6 = 50

5 = 42...lets try not to go lower than that.

I'm about 1/3 of the way through 6th bell's stories. They're ranging between 6-8. Again, go ahead and bring them Tuesday. I want to have my grades updated by Wed. morning b/c we have parent-teacher conferences Wed. night.

Did you get the Professional growth plan that I forwarded you??? Let me know if you need help working on it. I thought Dana said she wanted to see it when she came on Tuesday.
