A) Both poems that I read were by Langston Hughes called "A Dream Deferred" and "Democracy". The comparison of the 2 poems are both written by Langston Hughes both during the Harlem Renaissance. "Democracy" was about a dream to be free and "A Dream Deferred" was about a dream that may never come true. The comparison was they were both dreams. The contrast was one came true and the other one does.

B) Democracy during the Harlem Renaissance.

This shows a lack of understanding of the questions and of the Harlem Renaissance.

You need to work harder at paying attention in class.
