

Questions about Setting

Writers describe the world they know. Sights, sounds, colors, and textures are all vividly painted in words as an artist paints images on canvas. A writer imagines a story to be happening in a place that is rooted in his or her mind. The location of a story's actions, along with the time in which it occurs, is the setting.

Answer the following questions with as much detail as possible. The items in () are meant to help you come up with your own answers. They are not multiple choice. In other words, do not use them as your answers. You will want to add more detail than they provide.

Where is your story going to take place? (a room, a small town, a city, a state, a country, a world, etc.) What is the style of the place? (Victorian, retro, martian, etc.) Describe this place in detail.

My novel takes place in a magical land, called 'Il terra di il magia coronas' - Italian for, 'The land of the magic crowns'. This land is a place where no one will dare to go, except for a brave 17-year-old boy who accidentally comes across the land by falling into a never-ending pot-hole while walking in his driveway. Many walk out the 1st time they see it, but this boy courageously confronts

Who lives there?

King Burton

(Evil) → groups: Shiagons; Planitons; and Mostules. the noble king (King Burton) and battles with the evil forces in that land.

What is the major belief system? (religion, philosophy, politics)

The (Evil) praise their noble King Burton; they look up to him for everything, they have no God.

When does it take place? (past, present future) future.

Will it take place on our planet or another? Will it take place in our dimension or another?

Our planet. Our dimension.

If your story is based on a world other than our own (dimension, planet, future, etc.), what are the rules? (example: Magic can only be performed while wearing a specific hat. Yes. It's a silly example. You need to provide more detail.)

Magic is dangerous and evil is near. Only the 'crowns' can save you.
